

Further Support and Resources

Financial Education Quality Mark

The Financial Education Quality Mark is an accreditation system for financial education resources that have been created for use with children and young people. It is awarded to resources that support high quality teaching and learning about money.

All of the Quality Mark resources can be found on the Young Money Website at www.young.money.org.uk/resources

We've highlighted just a few of these below which you could use to extend and develop your My Money Week.

econoME

The econoME programme gives young people greater economic and financial awareness, equipping them with the skills to make more informed decisions about personal financial choices. The econoME programme includes: Three pre-written lesson plans; three editable PowerPoint presentations; interactive activities and video plus a handy glossary of terms and colourful visual guide to the economy.

Money Skills

Within the LifeSkills programme created with Barclays is the Money Skills section. The resources can suit all needs across the key stages to help your young people learn about how to protect themselves from fraud, understand the world of work, future planning and being aware of risk. The range of activities and overview over resources can be found at www.young-enterprise.org.uk/resources/money-skills/

Money Management

The Money Management series of resources, developed in conjunction with HSBC, Catch 22, Princes Trust and Tomorrows People, can be delivered by teachers or volunteers and are a great way to engage young people a range of financial education topics through a series of activities.

Topics include how to protect themselves from fraud, how to find out more about where they can go to access support and advice, banking options and payslips. There are 8 sessions in total, the lesson plans and corresponding resources for each session can be downloaded at www.young-enterprise.org.uk/teachers-hub/resources/

MoneySense

Using the interactive resource developed by NatWest teachers can facilitate an exciting, innovative web based learning experience for their students – from using a virtual bank to interactive quizzes. MoneySense will enhance any delivery planned around financial education. It can be found at www.young-enterprise.org.uk/resources/moneysense/

Developing Financial Futures

A simple but effective resource that is based around 5 scenarios which young people may realistically face, allowing opportunities for discussion and decision making. From raising aspirations around career decisions to moving forward with a young family, relevant and engaging big questions enhance the knowledge, skills and attitudes of the young people who experience it. It can be downloaded or ordered from www.young-enterprise.org.uk/resources/developing-financial-futures/

It's Your Decision

It's Your Decision is a resource which gives pupils the opportunity to discuss and debate financial choices while developing an understanding of skills involved in making financial decisions. It's Your Decision includes five colourful packs of cards with humorous 'stories'. This is a unique resource for introducing pupils to the ideas of personal finance, e.g. saving, spending and budgeting whilst also introducing them to mathematical concepts in an entertaining and applied way. You can purchase this resource here www.young-enterprise.org.uk/resources/its-your-decision/

Young Money also offers a range of advice and expertise about financial education including the following services:

The Financial Education Advisory Service

Our FREE Advisory Service (formerly ASKpfeg) offers advice and guidance to anyone teaching children and young people about money- specialist education consultants use their experience to give practical advice and guidance about any aspect of financial education.

Our knowledge covers both primary and secondary phases as well as specialist subjects and special education needs. We can also offer advice on assessment and impact, including ideas for enrichment days and the effective use of financial services volunteers.

Financial Education Teacher Training

Regional teacher training sessions are taking place across England and Wales over the course of the academic year.

The training sessions will equip teachers to develop and deliver high quality, relevant, financial education to students throughout primary school, meeting the requirements of the national curriculum and beyond. They will provide teachers with the very latest research and good practice in developing financial education for secondary students, whilst also sharing high quality tools, resources and further support.

Or have us come to you – Tailored in-house training is available for your school to meet your specific needs. For more information, including dates and locations, visit www.young-enterprise.org.uk/teachers-hub/financial-education/support-training/teacher-training/

Teacher Advisory Group

Could you support us to improve our programmes and services? We are looking for teachers with an interest in financial education to join our Teacher Advisory Group (TAG). At Young Money we are committed to reviewing and improving our offer and it is important to us that we do this in consultation with teachers. Being part of TAG may involve being asked to review and feedback on new tools and resources we develop, providing views on the development of our programmes and services for teachers, and potentially feeding into financial education policy. The TAG will be the very first group of teachers to explore new materials and be able to provide input into their development prior to making them more widely available.
