

YOUNG MONEY CHALLENGE GUIDELINES

Category Two: Age 7-11

For Category Two, children will be investigating RESPONSIBLE CONSUMERISM, discovering how the choices we make as consumers can help our families, communities and the environment. They'll also be exploring the different ways we can raise awareness about these choices among our family, friends and the wider community. We are challenging children to create a Challenge2020 Portfolio either working individually or in teams of up to 4. They must submit ONE of the following campaign materials:

1. Energy: A poster or leaflet for how schools/organisations can save money by reducing their energy use
2. Fashion: A poster or leaflet of how to save money by upcycling items
3. Food: A poster or leaflet on how to save money by reducing food waste

They can also choose to submit up to 2 additional campaign materials to support their main entry, either from the list above or the following:

- a. Photographic evidence of any creations e.g. 3D models, large signs or posters – any photos must be accompanied with a written description
- b. Photographic evidence of any activity – any photos must be accompanied with a written description and must not include the pupils themselves

Group entries

Children can create their Challenge2020 Portfolio, either working individually or in teams of up to 4. Creating a team entry may be more challenging for children in a home learning environment but we're very happy for siblings of a similar age group to work together or for children to find remote ways to link with their team members. Remember all members of a team must contribute to the campaign materials.

Criteria

A key message to guide campaign material creations should be:
small actions can have a big impact!

All campaign materials should demonstrate:

A clear link between money management and environmental sustainability. A clear rationale behind campaign materials i.e. it's evident how the portfolio material(s) could raise awareness of responsible consumerism.

Portfolios will not be judged on the amount of campaign materials they include, rather they will be judged on how well they serve their purpose and understand their audience. Judges will be looking for a considered response to 'responsible consumerism', be that through one piece of strong campaign material or a series of materials. We're looking for children to show a comprehensive awareness of issues and a creative, thoughtful campaign idea.

Eligibility

Remember to include a completed
Challenge Summary Sheet.

For a portfolio to be eligible:

- Campaign materials must be no larger than A3
- Campaign materials can be either landscape or portrait, handwritten, hand drawn or a printed copy created on a computer. Entries can be in black and white or colour and must be 2D. Children can send photographic evidence of 3D materials.

- Schools and other organisations are required to obtain parental/guardian consent for each child who enters the challenge. Parents/carers are required to provide parental/carer consent. HOW TO USE THE CHALLENGE TEACHING MATERIALS?

To support with the delivery of the Challenge, we've provided a set of teaching materials for children aged 7-11. These materials are designed to develop your children's understanding of responsible consumerism as well as to inspire them to create thoughtful and persuasive campaign materials for their Challenge2020 Portfolios.

There are three activities in total. Each activity explores a key area of responsible consumerism and culminates with a challenge entry option. You can choose the challenge option or options that best appeal to your children! There's also a fun Responsible Consumerism quiz to help you introduce this concept in an engaging and accessible way.

Enjoy taking part, we're really looking forward to seeing all your wonderful creations!
